

STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT

Reaffirmed July 1, 2014

“The University of Kentucky College of Medicine, with the full support of the UK HealthCare Enterprise, is committed to assuring the highest quality in its graduate medical education programs so that residents and fellows, with the guidance, support, and supervision of the faculty may develop ethically, professionally, and personally. We will provide the curricula, evaluation, and resident/fellow supervision that support safe and appropriate patient care. To accomplish this, we will provide the educational, financial, and human resources necessary to assure a training environment in which scholarship is valued, clinical care is exemplary, and residents/fellows are respected as learners and colleagues. We will assure institutional resources for effective implementation and support of all programs in compliance with all ACGME requirements. Furthermore, we will assure appropriate evaluation and feedback for both residents/fellows and teaching faculty, we will measure outcomes of our training programs, and we will use the results of such evaluations to improve programs.”
